The school board members have a huge responsibility-they must make all the major decisions concerning the operation and improvements of the local school system.

The superintendent heads the main educational program of BHS. He is appointed by the board to his position, and must supervise the public schools of the Bucklin district. He is responsible for every phase and facet of the school system, and makes reports to the board periodically.

Board members must hire teachers and all other school personnel. This means they must be judges of both personality and character.

All bills and expenditures must be passed before the board before money will be appropriated for payment. Plans for improvements in the cirriculum and facilities must also be planned and agreed upon by the board members.

A better atmosphere to provide enthusiastic circumstances and wider opportunities for learning is the major obligation of the board members. They must help the students to accept their responsibility to get the best possible education and the widest scope of knowledge from the opportunities offered at BHS.

BOARD MEMBERS: Woodrow McCollum, Vice-President; Roscoe Baugher, Treasurer; Jerry Main, Secretary; Keith Moorshead; Bryan S. English, President; Ben Burnett; and John Kelso, Superintendent.

LEORA DAVIS, NORMA STANDLEY, AND PHYLLIS LOVETT kick up their heels at the annual all-school Christmas party. Could this be some kind of a new teen-age dance?

WHAT WE DO AT BUCKLIN R-2

Memories are things that dreams are made of and 1964-65 holds many memories for the students and faculty of BHS. Every minute was filled with activities as the school term progressed.

Several awards were bestowed on BHS. The high school was presented with a bookcase and books. The freshman class again received first place in the Planned Progress program. The '64 Reco received a first class honor rating.

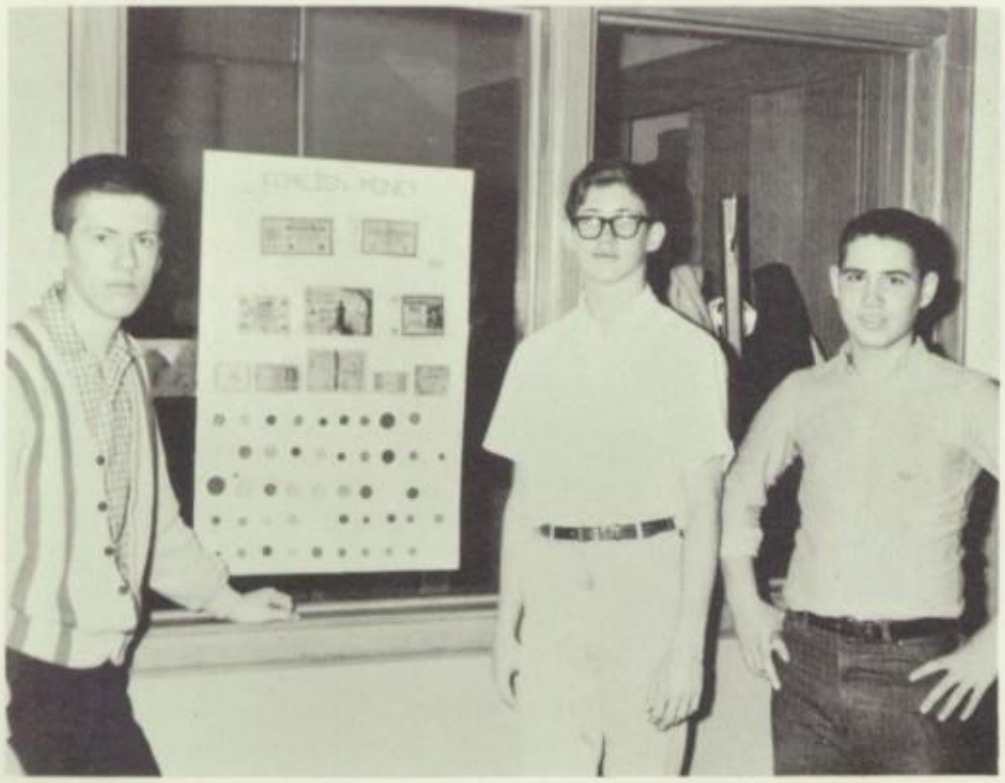
This year will long be remembered by the students and faculty of BHS. As we recall past experiences of friendships, lessons, plays, parties, and dates, we will, no doubt, place 1964-65 first in our thoughts.

PROVIDING THE BOUNCE AND PEP for the many high school ball games are the vivacious cheerleaders.

THESE GIRLS ARE doing their part for the annual Reco Frolics. They look mighty cute.

DECIDING WHICH RING to buy is a big decision each junior class must face and this year's juniors were no exception.

ONE OF THE BIGGEST EVENTS this past school year was the presentation of a bookcase and books by Mr. Shoemaker.



THESE BOYS EARNED extra credit in civics by showing this foreign money in class by means of their poster.

BALL GAMES ARE popular to one and all, especially to the student body.

LABORING DILIGENTLY to complete a poster for the Senior Pie Supper are John Cupp and George Arbuckle.

"1-2-3, FASTER!" is the command given to these freshmen as they do jumping jacks for the seniors on Initiation Day.

THOSE WHO START THE DAY'S ACTIVITIES AND KEEP THEM RUNNING

"THERE SEEMS to be MORE SIDEWALKS to clear every snow we get," remarks Mr. Dowell, custodian, as he resumes his task.

A school system is a complex organization, involving many people. Some of these people are seldom recognized as vital to the proper operation of the school, but without them the school year couldn't be complete.

The cooks are essential--they are the ones who provide the student body and faculty of BHS with nutritious and hearty meals 180 days a year. This isn't an easy job, but the cooks tackle the task with ambitious vitality.

Our custodian, Mr. Dowell, finds he is responsible for a wide variety of jobs. His work includes sweeping, dusting, scooping snow, replacing light bulbs, burning trash, raising the flag, mowing the lawn, and any other "odd job" that needs to be done.

Although he has many tasks to be done, you will often find him whistling happily as he works.

The bus drivers also have a big responsibility, as they must bring the students to school every day, and then take them home after their long day of study. The weather is an important, and sometimes perplexing, circumstance for these "Chauffeurs." They must fight rain, mud, snow, and ice while driving their route, but they are always ready to go when the time comes. Discipline is also a part of their job, as students must remain seated and orderly during the route. Ball games, band trips, and other outside activities and parties also require the services of the bus drivers during the school year, but they are always willing to take on these extra responsibilities.

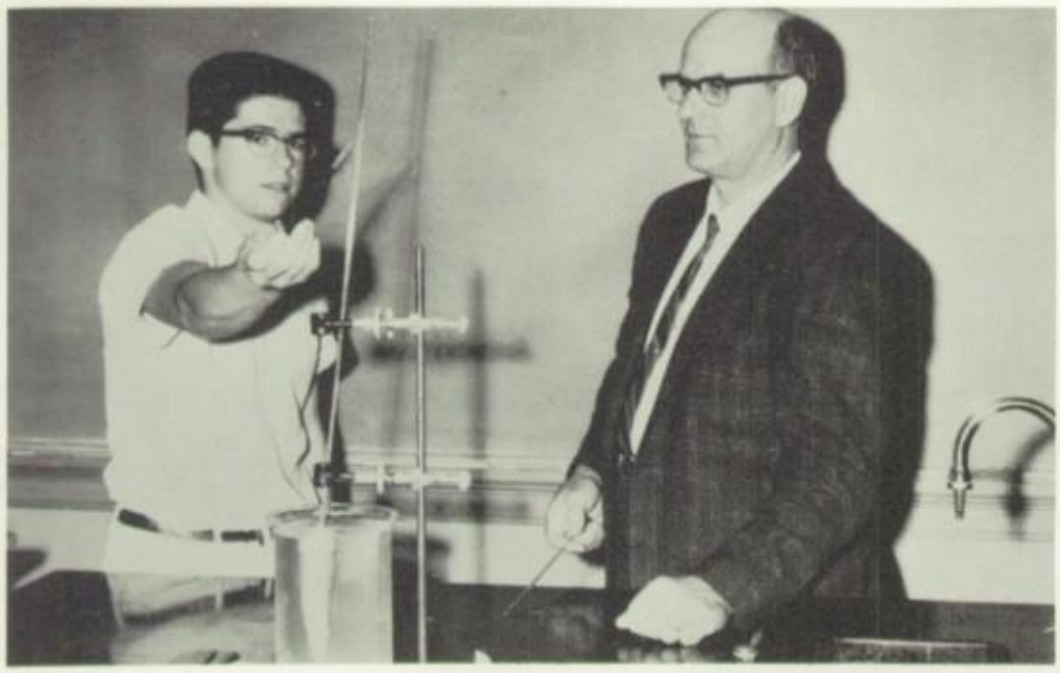
LEARNING

SCIENCES

KNOWLEDGE THROUGH EXPERIMENT



AN EXPERIMENT in osmosis was conducted by John Craig. Biology instructor, Mr. Wolf, gives it his undivided attention.

Science is a method of thinking about problems and solving them. It plays a larger part in life than most students realize. A study of science improves our way of life and broadens our knowledge of our surrounding environment.

Bucklin High School offers to students interested in the scientific field the courses of biology, physics, and basic and advanced science.

These classes are for those who want a basic knowledge of science, and if the study is continued into more advanced phases of science, the knowledge of science becomes more complex and complete, and an understanding is found.

THE PHYSICS CLASS used a study of equilibrium and the center of gravity to prove known theories to gain better understanding for themselves.

MATHEMATICS

NOTHING

EXPERIENCE

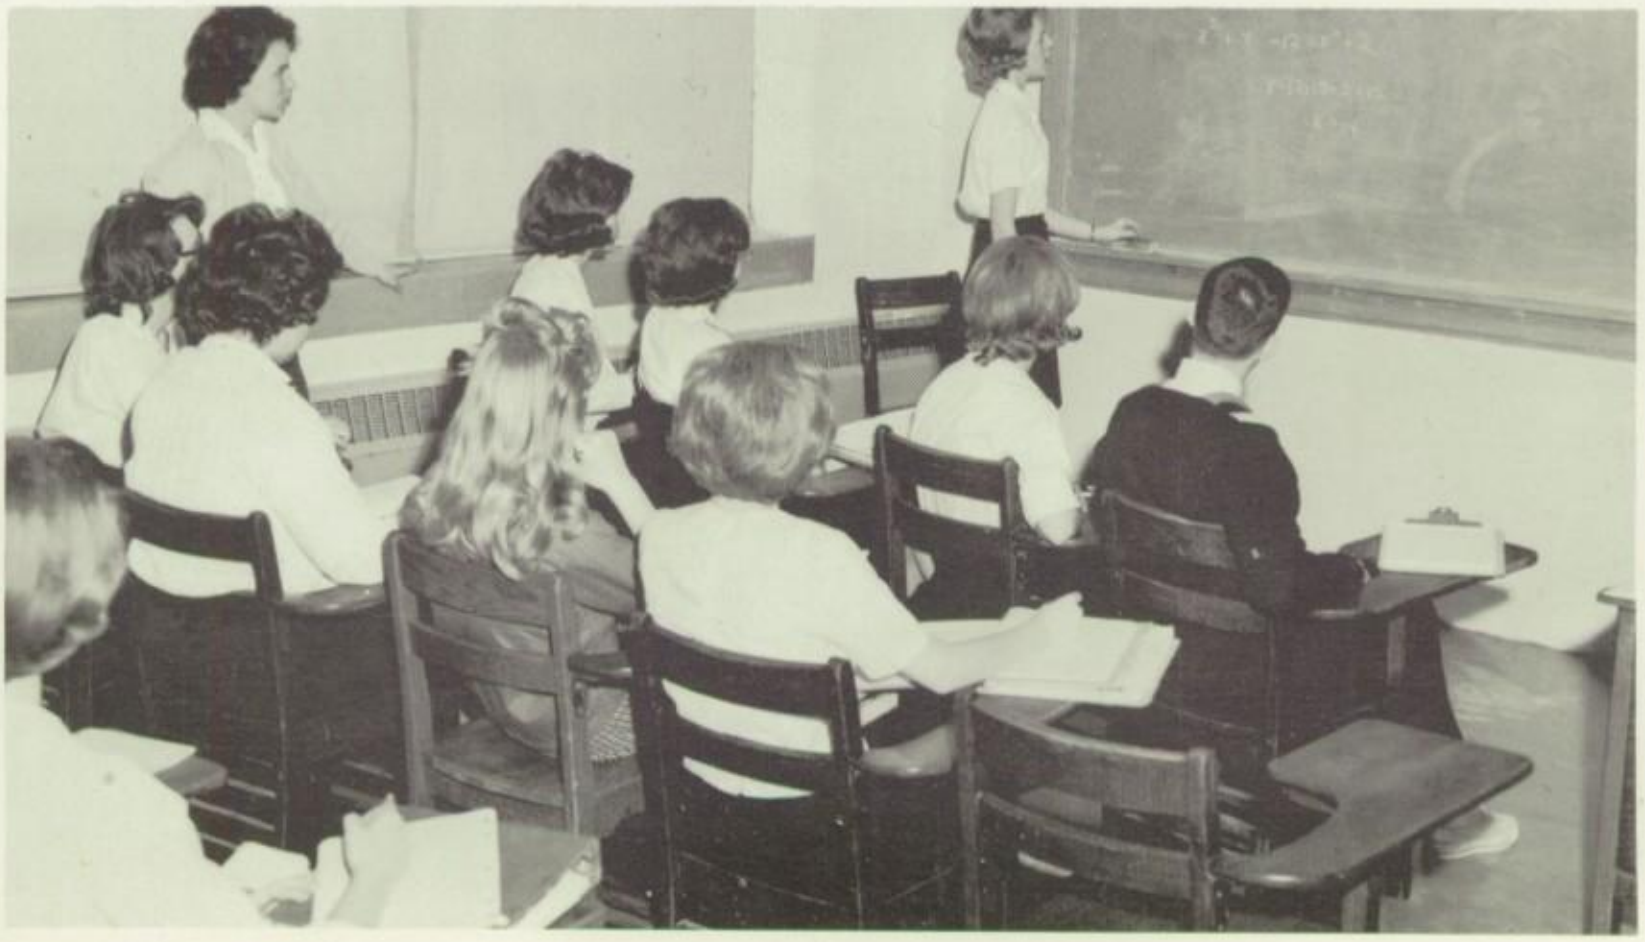
WORKING STEADILY and DILIGENTLY are these trigonometry students, who find the course very challenging.

Students who pursue the courses in the Mathematics Department have a satisfied feeling of accomplishment when they are able to see their way clear through a difficult problem. To reach proper mathematical conclusions, students have to be serious minded and have depth for concentration.

General mathematics consist of review work of principles that need more perfection, and samples of basic mathematics that are prevalent in the every day "work-a-day" world. Algebra I is an introduction to this field, and Algebra II advances the training. Trigonometry and geometry are offered on an alternate plan.

One unit of mathematics is required of all Bucklin High graduates. Almost all of the students are encouraged to take more. The students who plan to go on to college deem it imperative to get as much knowledge of mathematics as possible.

ALGEBRA is the SUBJECT under discussion as Diana Burnett explains the equation of this problem to the rest of the class members and their teacher, Mrs. Phillips.



COMMUNITY RECREATIONAL FACILITIES were discussed by the Planned Progress panel composed of Kent Nickerson, Donna Burnett, Betty Jo Gall, Betty Anderson, and Sharon Davis. This group, assisted by other class members, won first place in the regional contest.

HISTORY AND CITIZENSHIP

KEEPING UP WITH THE WORLD

The world of today is different from the world of tomorrow. To keep up with these changes is a challenge to every American, and in order to meet this challenge, every person must study and absorb facts of our changing world. Citizenship is required for every high school student. It is interesting, informative, and helpful in accepting ourselves and others in our world. A study of world affairs, government actions, and local developments are covered, and by study, an understanding is reached.

American and world history are also required and this study of the world of yester-year leads toward a better understanding of what life will be like in the future. Although it requires much study, history is useful in leading normal lives as well-rounded individuals.

TO GAIN EXPERIENCE in voting during a Presidential election, the citizenship class prepared ballots and conducted a mock election for all of the high school students.

"WE GOT FIRST PLACE on our Planned Progress Project, seems to be the statement reflected on these faces. The announcement had just been made to them by Miss Cannon, their sponsor.

ENGLISH

BLENDING OLD AUTHORS WITH NEW

WUTHERING HEIGHTS by Emily Bronte is a novel that was given detailed study in the English literature class. Susan Lacer tries to explain the complicated Earnshaw, Linton, and Heathcliff family trees to Carolyn Walker, Ronnie Anderson, and Gerald Akins.

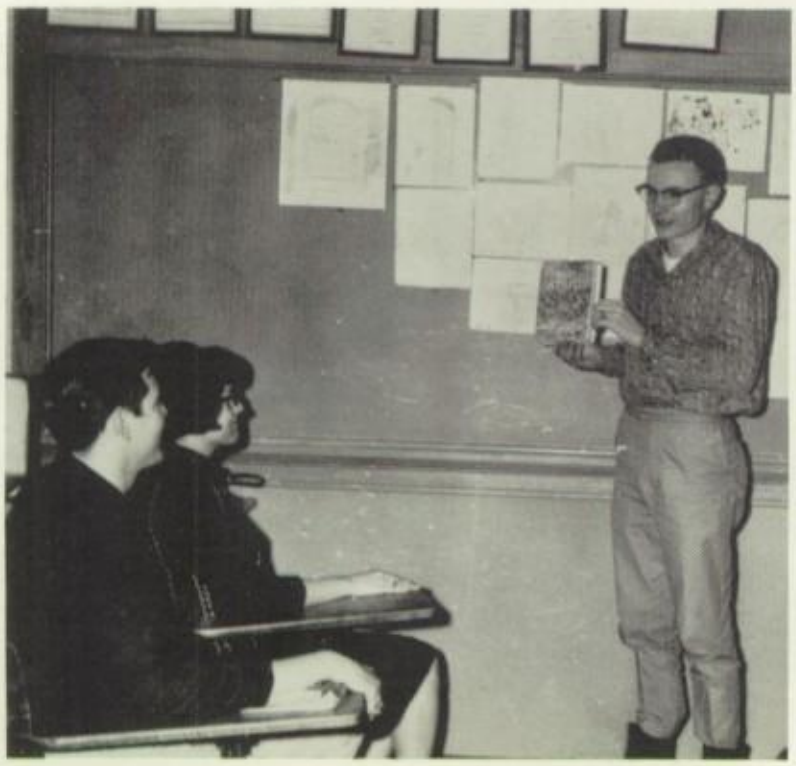
English is an interesting as well as essential subject. Students learn the correct use of language, and to explore different types of literature. Each class completed two novels, one by a conventional writer, and the other by a modern author.

One day of each week is dedicated to furthering outside reading. The purpose of this period is to give students an opportunity to increase the number of book reports. Freshman through senior English classes take their weekly spelling and vocabulary tests on Friday.

The oratorical contest, an event started last year, has become an annual event. The theme of the contest this year was "The Responsibility of the Youth."

"AMERICANISM VERSUS COMMUNISM" was the topic of the Modern Woodmen of America oratorical contest. Carolyn Walker placed first and her name was engraved on the permanent plaque.

BOOK REVIEWS were given as a part of the outside reading program. James Curry has always liked to read and he is shown telling about a special book to Billy Holmes and Barbara Hunt.



ART

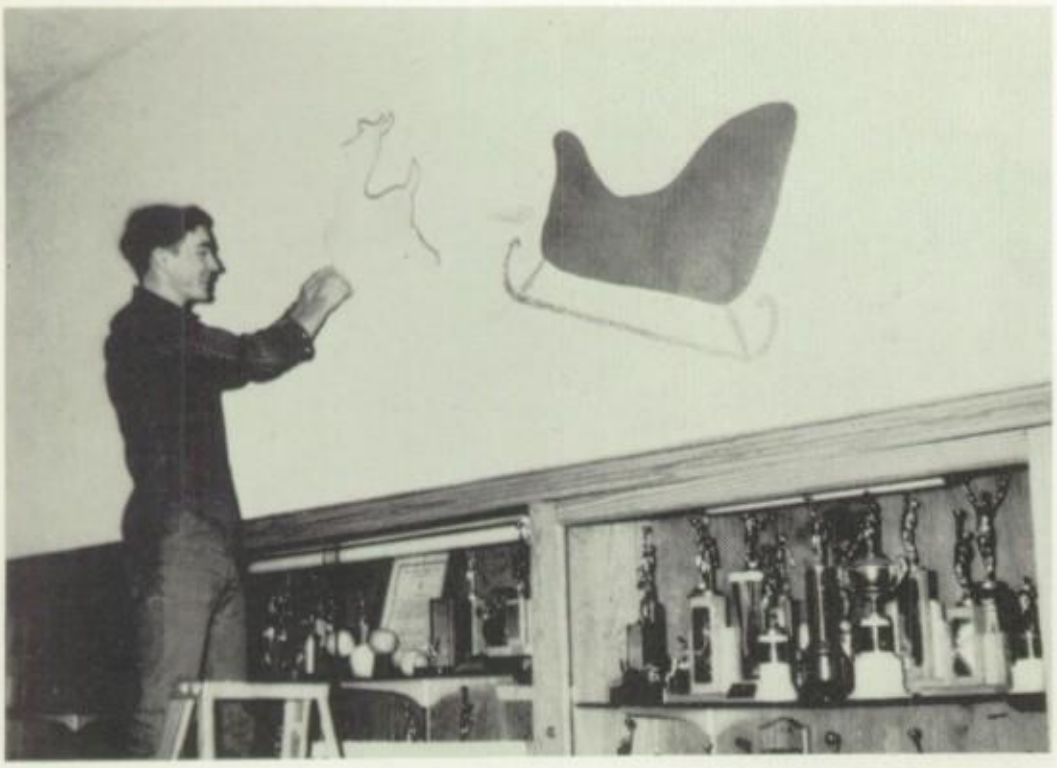
SELF-EXPRESSION



"THIS REINDEER seems to be running away from the sleigh," comments Fred Cunningham as he helps put up decorations for the entrance to the school for the holiday season.

Art is an outlet for one's imagination. It is not only for the talented person, but for the person who wants to develop an appreciation for the many characteristics of it.

One of the units of the course is to teach the students the functional basis of art, the basis he sees and uses every day.

Students learn practical uses of art, lettering, poster construction, and elementary interior decorating. From this course students learn to appreciate great painting and sculptures by medieval and twentieth century artists.

To complete the course art students create their own "Masterpieces" in oil paints, pastels, water color, wood, and soap.

The Home Economics Department helps students prepare for a rich and full life in years to come. Almost every girl's ambition is to become a homemaker some time in her life. Home economics helps to broaden her knowledge by teaching the basic fundamentals of cooking, sewing, home management, child care, hospitality, poise, and family life. Students gain valuable experience in the home room by preparing meals, learning good grooming habits, and sewing their first garments.

The furnishings of the home economics room are sufficient for the students' various needs. The equipment consists of kitchen facilities, sewing necessities, and the living quarters.

BRENDA JOHNSON and LOU JEAN KITCHEN seem to enjoy painting the trim on this ornate, old-fashioned trunk. The finished product justified their effort, as it was very attractive and useful.

HOME ECONOMICS

"THIS PASTRY CUTTER makes baking pies and other pastries much quicker," explains Mrs. Van Dyke to two of her third-year home economics students, Joan Liebhart and Marilyn Hayes.

FOR BETTER LIVING

DOROTHY SWITZER and VADEN MORRIS were the bride and groom in a wedding ceremony portrayed by members of the family living class. The purpose of this ceremony was to help the students understand the importance and solemnity of the wedding vows by proper instruction.

THE NECESSITY of PROPER MACHINE CARE is stressed in the first-year home economics class. New machines help make sewing easier and more enjoyable. Pam Husted, Bonita Stanley, Donna Burnett, Betty Gall, and Janet McCarty seem enthusiastic about the plans and construction of their first garments.

THE MOST IMPORTANT PART of the car, the motor, seems to hold the interest of the drivers' training students, as Mr. Meeks explains these integral parts.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS AND DRIVERS' TRAINING

FROM HAMMERS TO CARS

The successful person in the world of tomorrow must have a wide knowledge, both of facts and figures, and of practical skills. Industrial arts gives this background to any boy wanting it. Woodworking is fun, and it also is practical, as many useful and beautiful things can be produced.

Metalworking is offered for the first time, and this is excellent training for those interested in welding and making useful things from metal products. The senior boys in metalworking class appreciate the new equipment purchased for them, and they, and students who will use this equipment in the future, will profit by this new class.

A new drivers' training car makes that class much more enjoyable for everyone who wants to learn how to drive properly, and to exercise the greatest degree of safety. Laboratory training and classwork, combined with actual driving experience, gives the student the chance to become an expert driver.

THE NEW METALWORKING equipment is being explained by Mr. Meeks to some senior students. They find the proper use of this equipment requires patience, skill, and precision.

STUDIES IN THE COMMERCIAL FIELD

BETTER BUSINESS METHODS

THE NEW DUPLICATOR is a great aid in putting out a neater school paper. Nelda Johnson and Hank Noah seem to enjoy working on the paper.

A good business education today is vitally important to the business leaders of tomorrow. High school students are ready to learn the business theories offered them. General business helps the student to better understand the fundamentals of the business world. Typing is offered to those who want to learn to use the typewriter efficiently and with ease. Shorthand and secretarial practice are for those who look forward to a career as a secretary or other office worker. Bookkeeping is interesting for those who enjoy dealing with figures, and also are interested in the modern trends of the business world.

New typewriters have added a great deal of interest for the typing students. They enjoy working with new equipment that does its job well. A new duplicating machine is a great help in putting out the school paper.

"CONCENTRATE on ACCURACY during the timed writings," advises Mr. Fessler, as the typing students perfect their typing skills. Typing is fun and also very essential for every student.

"VOLLEYBALL or BALLET?" Hitting the ball over the net seems to require both poise and skill in this enjoyable competitive game.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

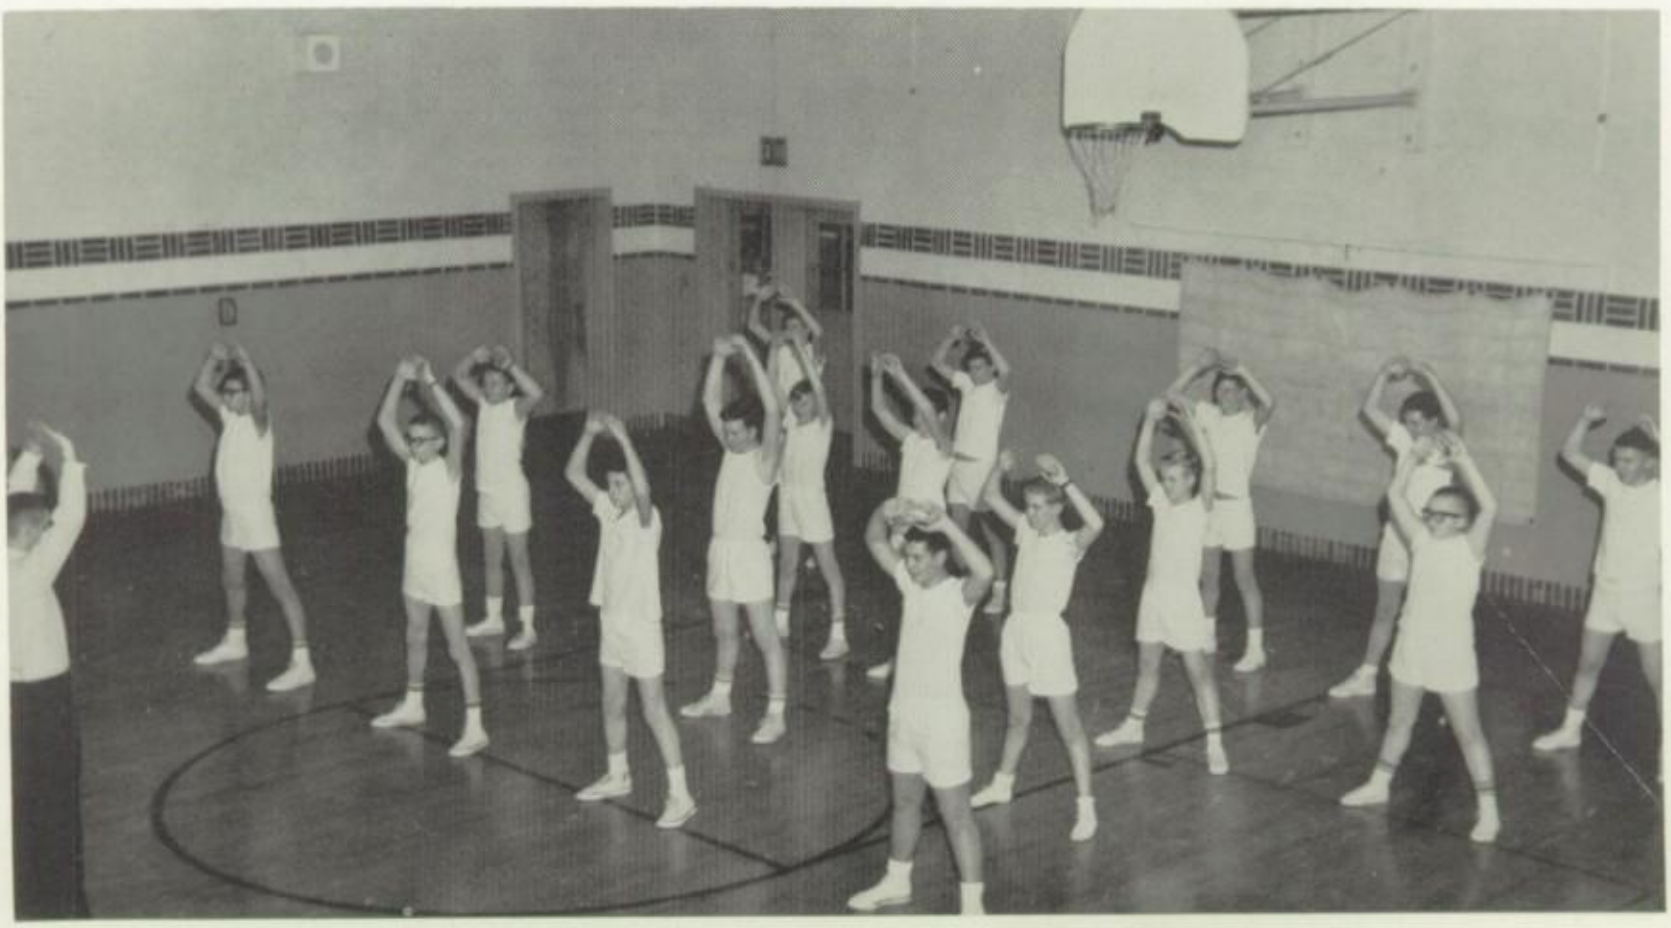
BRINGS FUN AND FITNESS

To be physically fit means not only having a sound body, but also a sound mind. Nothing can compare with an exciting and vigorous game of softball, basketball, dodgeball, or volleyball, such as the boys' and girls' enthusiastic P. E. classes participate in.

Strenuous exercise is not, to some students, the most enjoyable thing in the world, but the boys realize it is the way to manly muscles and the girls recognize it as a way to keep trim!

An inspiration to the physical education program this year has been an intramural basketball tournament held in the morning before first hour classes. The names of the contesting teams were unusual: the High Hill Vandals, the Rats, the Raiders, and the Achings. These exciting games proved to be as popular as the regular basketball games.

JUMPING JACKS is one of the best exercises for improving physical fitness. The boys' P. E. class seems to be enjoying this exercise as part of their physical education requirements.



9—POINT HEALTH PROGRAM

HEALTH THE SECRET OF YOUTH

"YOUR TEETH are in fine condition," reports Dr. Bunton, as he checks Roy Riddle's teeth in the Nine-Point Health Program.

The Nine-Point Health Standard has been adopted as the minimum health goal for Missouri boys and girls. The health standard is offered as a measuring rod to be used as one means of ascertaining the health progress of a school.

This standard is a reasonable goal which is within the reach of practically every child. The Nine-Point badge is an emblem signifying that the child has passed the minimum health requirements.

The Nine-Point requirements are: nutrition, posture, vision, hearing, teeth, throat, immunizations, smallpox vaccination, and birth registration.

In bygone days stress was placed wholly on the development of the mind, but today's educational leaders realize the value of the combination of the physical with the mental.

PROPER GROWTH is important to good health and a height and weight check is made.

"HOW MANY FATHOMS DEEP is that stick going?" wonders Roger Davolt during his examination.

MUSIC

MUSIC OPENS MANY DOORS

CONCERT BAND

Extracurricular activities are provided for the band in many parades and concerts. The band members enjoy marching at the Missouri State Fair, KSTC Homecoming, Linn County 4-H, and small town parades gaining experience as they participate. The community has opportunities to hear the band give concerts in the autumn and spring. The concert held at the Fox Hunt is one of the most enjoyed of all. The band plays selections concerning dogs. This adds to the fun and excitement of the event.

District contest keeps the band busy in the winter as they work hard to prepare their numbers for the contests in the spring. To receive a good rating at contest, individuals must practice separately and collectively. The requirements of a perfect performance are many hours of practice outside of school hours and cooperative effort.

DRUM MAJORETTE, Karen Jackson, leads the Bucklin High School Band in many special events.

HIGH VARIETIES IN MUSIC are achieved by this flute trio. Each year Betty Gall, Patty Eshmont, and Sharon Davis work hard in practicing and preparing selected numbers for District Contest.

INTENSIVE TRAINING LEADS

THE MIXED CLARINET QUARTET consists of Betty Twitchel, Diana Burnett, Mary Ervie, and Betty Whisenand. They enjoy many opportunities of playing for special events.

MANY OPPORTUNITIES are offered to the trumpet trio. Keith Switzer, Pat Carter, and Mark Nickerson receive much pleasure and fun as they work together and play for special occasions.

VOICES THAT BLEND with spirit and harmony are those of Barbara Hunt, Karen Jackson, and Nelda Johnson, who make up a melodious trio. Their tone quality produces pleasing effects.

WITH THE PROVOCATIVE BEAT OF MUSIC

THIS NEW ORIGINAL SEXTET strives for fame as they sing for many special occasions. They are Pam Husted, Jan Carter, Pat Carter, Karen Jackson, Diana Burnett, and Sharon Davis.

BRINGING THE REAL MEANING OF CHRISTMAS into the program is this group of children as they present the manger scene which always has a special meaning to the children.

"THE LIVING CHRISTMAS CARDS"

THESE WISE MEN perform with great skill as the Christmas Choir sings "We Three Kings."

"The Living Christmas Cards" was presented by the first four grades of the elementary department of the Bucklin R-2 School on December 10, 1964. These children practiced for many hours with their teachers and Mr. Rickman to be able to perform without any errors in their program. The music for the Christmas program was provided by a Christmas Choir consisting of the third and fourth graders. The program of interest ranged from the original Christmas story to a scene of every generation-young and old who believe in Santa Claus.

SINGING MANY CAROLS are these carolers as they participate in the Christmas Program. These youngsters enjoy singing together for this special occasion.

A BLENDING OF THE SCRIPTURAL WITH THE MODERN

GIRLS'

SOFTBALL

POPULAR OUTDOOR SPORT

During the season the girls showed much interest and ability in the sport of softball, and this they proved as they won third place in the Tri-County Conference Tournament held at Bucklin.

Winning first place honors at this tournament was the Browning team and winning second was the Bevier team.

There was much enthusiasm shown and ability possessed. With this combination the Bucklin coach is hoping for a first place victory at the Tri-County conference next year.

Bucklin placed second in the district meet this year at Brookfield. Winning honors for Bucklin was Brenda Johnson who won third place in the shot-put. This event was won by Sue Bonuchi of Bevier. Leora Davis won the basketball throw event for Bucklin and Nancy Heaton placed third in the same event. Leora threw the basketball 91ft. 8 in. which set a new record for this event. Leora also placed second in the baseball throw which was won by Betty Berry of Bevier. The Bucklin relay team placed fifth in both the 300 yd. and the 440-yd. relays. The girls are planning to win FIRST this coming year.

QUITE AN EFFORT IS EXERTED by Nancy Heaton as she attempts to place at the District meet.

Only competing in one other track meet besides the district at Brookfield didn't give the Bulldogs much of a chance to show the potential they possessed.

This meet was at Meadville and was between Bucklin, Linneus, and Meadville teams. The Bucklin team placed second in this meet.

The Bucklin team placed sixth in the district meet at Brookfield. Place winners for Bucklin included Fred Cunningham, mile run; Ted Holmlund, 440-yard dash; Bob Jobson, high jump; and Jerry Payne, pole-vault. Bucklin also placed third in the 880-yard relay.

The Bucklin teams hold these records on the official District records: Gary Amen in 1961 broke two records as he won the 440-yard dash in the record time of 55.0 seconds and the broad jump by jumping 20'0"; Joe York in 1960 won the high hurdles in 15.9 seconds and the low hurdles in 21.7 seconds.

Track is a popular sport at Bucklin, and the boys like to get out in the spring weather to round out several months of indoor activities.

IN THE MILE RUN Fred Cunningham placed second; also pictured is teammate Mike Behrman.

STIMULATING

Excitement is what is found at a championship game, and to play in this game is quite an honor because there are only two teams that start in the tournament that end up playing for first place honors.

This year as in years past found the Bucklin boys' team playing for first place at the Bucklin diamond for the Tri-County Conference championship title. Unfortunately, they were defeated by Bevier for this title.

THE BIG FIVE: David Schillinger, third base; Fred Cunningham, shortstop; Hank Noah, pitcher; Mike Behrman, second base; and Gerald Akins, first base.

"SLIDING INTO A BASE IS A DIRTY JOB," says Bobby Jobson as he attempts this task at baseball practice.

BUCKLIN TEAM MEMBERS, COACH, AND MANAGERS, are pictured with their trophy after they won second place in the Tri-County Conference tournament held at Bucklin.

JAN CARTER, No. 20, sinks two free shots for Bucklin. Vicki Griffin awaits the rebound to help her team to victory.

Basketball is a fast and exciting team game. The swiftness of the action in basketball is one of the main reasons for its popularity in small schools.

Throughout the season the girls have shown much promise in their ability to maneuver the ball. The girls who played in the guard positions did good jobs both in guarding their opponents and in retrieving the ball and getting it down to the other end of the court. The forwards knew exactly what to do with the ball when they got their hands on it. By sharing the ball with fellow teammates, each forward was able to score.

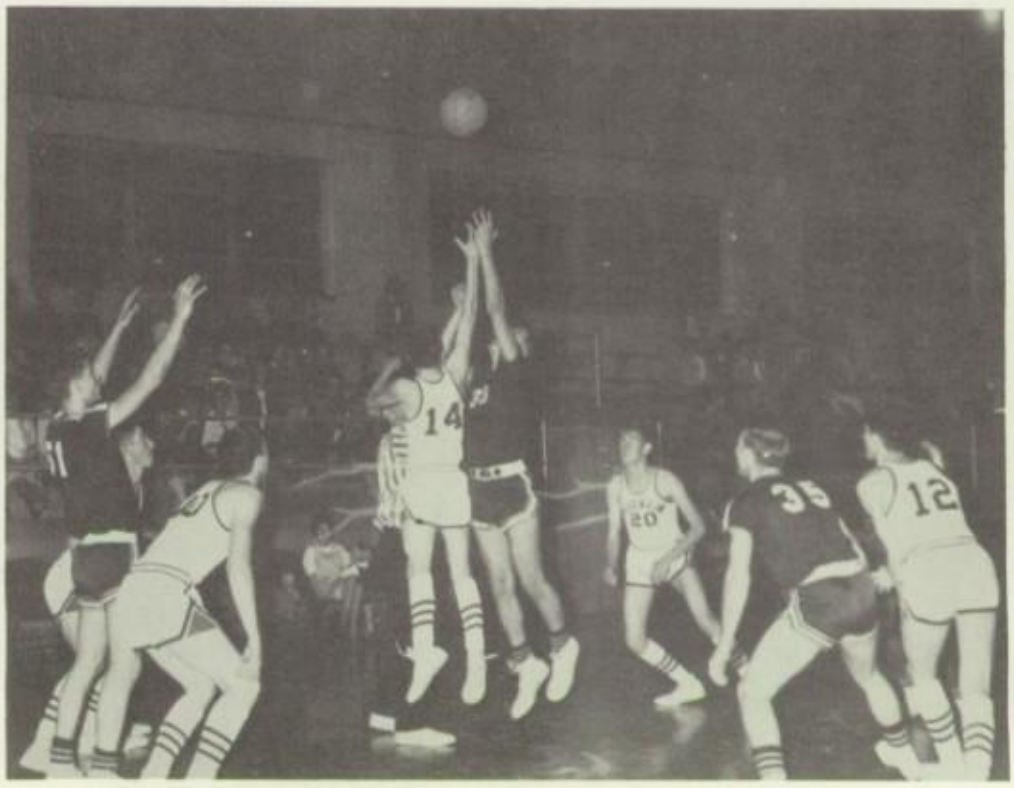
JERRY PAYNE, No. 40, waits eagerly to obtain the ball as Freddie Cunningham gets out-jumped during the game with Clarence on Bucklin's home court.



Starting in mid-October the Bulldog team had a long way to go to develop into a team that would receive benefit and pleasure from games. Coach Matlick and the boys worked hard after school hours to improve physical conditions and basketball fundamentals.

The 1964-65 season found an improved basketball team. The players worked as a unit on both offensive and defensive plays. Enthusiasm increased as the season progressed for both the team and the spectators.

JUNIOR HIGH BOYS' BASKETBALL

Basketball develops leadership and sportsmanship. It helps muscular development and skill. That is why the seventh, eighth, and ninth graders take an active part on the Junior High team.

The boys have really worked hard to improve their ability to catch, pass, guard, and shoot.

Blessed with an abundance of height plus agility and endurance, the boys were especially proud of the fact that they played for championship honors in the Junior High Tournament held on their own home court.

CAUGHT in a TIGHT SPOT under the goal, Don Selmon wonders quite anxiously just how he is going to maneuver the ball into the basket.

JUNIOR HIGH GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The seventh, eighth, and ninth years are set up to learn basketball fundamentals and to prepare for places on the high school teams. The team of '65 met its requirements in skill, and set out to play a good game.

Coach Matlick is pleased with the girls' playing abilities. They really came through the season demonstrating their skill in working together in a cooperative effort.

The girls were really happy when they played for the first-place trophy in Bucklin's Junior High tournament.

ACTIVITIES

THESE ROYAL PERSONAGES seem very pleased with the whole idea. The entire audience pays homage to the royal couples. The two tiny escorts, Stevie Willsie and Debbie Stone, aren't a bit bothered with all the commotion and the flash bulbs popping. Maybe they will be future royalty.

ROYALTY REIGNS SUPREME...

THESE STUDENTS SEEM to be transformed as the crowns and trappings of royalty are placed upon their heads and shoulders.

The Homecoming queen for 1964 is . . . . . This was the exciting moment on November 3, as Terry Carter announced Carter Sappington and Nelda Johnson, Homecoming king and queen. It proved to be an exciting evening, as the band performed at the half. The high school candidates were: freshmen, Susan Anderson and John Casady; sophomores, Pamella Husted and Herman Almond; juniors, Rama Head and Brad Stanley; seniors, Nelda Johnson and Carter Sappington. But, even as hearts were broken with sadness, they were mended with gladness as the new king and queen reigned supreme over the rest of the evening. Their court of admirers performed a special entertainment for them. The band, the twirlers, and the entire audience paid homage to the reigning royalty.

The band and twirlers put on a very entertaining program for the enjoyment of all. The twirlers did a special act by themselves. The whole evening was a complete success.

PLEASURE IS EVIDENT on the faces of these royal couples. For them the excitement and expectation is over at last. Bucklin is once again reigned over by a charming Sweetheart.

HOMECOMING AND

VALENTINE SWEETHEARTS

The scene resembled a sweet, old-fashioned valentine with cupids of pink and white adorning a pink and white box. The box was something special, for it held someone special, a Valentine Sweetheart. It could be Linda Finney, a senior; Mary Ervie, a junior; Mary Jo Dean, a sophomore; or Betty Anderson, a freshman. An expectant hush fell over the crowd as Terry Carter announced the 1965 Sweetheart. Miss Linda Finney emerged triumphant from the box. Roses were presented to the Sweetheart and a single rose was given to each candidate. The Sweetheart reigned over the rest of the thrilling evening.

Following the coronation, the band and twirlers presented a very entertaining show. The twirlers presented a separate act. This part of the program for the evening was especially good.

SWEETHEART LINDA FINNEY stepped out of the box to be greeted by Jerry Payne with a bouquet of roses. Jerry is the captain of the team.

A SMALL INTERRUPTION IN THE LONG DAY filled with much excitement is offered to those unfortunate freshmen.

A FRESHMAN CHORUS offered much to the assembly held for the eager class.

An onlooker couldn't say that Initiation Day is "eagerly" awaited by the freshmen. Rather, it is anticipated with a great deal of dread, suspense, and curiosity. The freshmen really begin to believe that the seniors have some extreme hatred for them. When the day actually arrives, they are convinced of this fact. At the close of the day, everything simmers down and the freshmen realize they had a pretty good time after all.

The seniors thought up some outlandish costumes for the freshmen to wear, and a thought-provoking tongue twister for them to repeat. The freshmen were "loaded" with candy and goodies to treat the honorable and "ever-to-be-looked-up-to" seniors.

An assembly climaxed the day, as the student body observed the stunts the freshmen had to perform. John Casady and Janet McCarty were crowned king and queen. The "twist" was interesting, but the highlight of the assembly was when Ken Sappington had to kiss Mrs. Kelso. (Really, how did Mrs. Kelso get in the act?)

THE DAY MOST DREADED— INITIATION

THE "BEAUTIFUL" FRESHMEN pose on the front lawn of the school in their very original garments, thoughtfully created especially for the occasion by the senior class members.

DON SELMON SERVED capably as Master of Ceremonies for the evening's program.

A SPECIAL WELCOME to the program of the luncheon was given by Janet McCarty, Linda Akins, Mona Lovett, and Joyce Cupp.

FRESHMEN SERVE AS HOSTS— SEPTEMBER 17, 1964

Bucklin High's first major undertaking for the freshman class was the Freshman Luncheon. This is an annual affair when the class entertains their parents, the faculty and personnel, and the school board members. A covered dish luncheon was served cafeteria style. The guests were greeted at the door by members of the class. After filling their plates to capacity, they were seated at tables decorated in keeping with the season.

At the conclusion of the meal, the guests were welcomed by the class president, Betty Jo Gall. The class members then introduced themselves and their parents to the other people. Betty Jo invited all of the guests to assemble in the auditorium for a short program.

The Baby Show - Vernie Bailey, Susan Anderson, Betty Anderson, Gary Davolt, Randy West, Brenda Jones
Trapeze Act - Bob Twitchel, Don Selmon, Gary Holmlund, Martin Kitchen
The Strong Man - Randy Jackson, Carl Walker
Twirling - Donna Burnett, Bonita Stanley, Jackie Curry

THESE ADORABLE "BABIES," Randy West, Susan Anderson, Betty Anderson, and Brenda Jones, brought laughter and applause from the audience with their antics during a short skit at the Luncheon.

SENIOR PLAY

APRIL 17, 1964

"Headin' for the Hills" is a three-act comedy set in the hills of Tennessee. The story concerns Cornelia Wellington Heister and her sister, Dorthea. They are wealthy orphans whose only living relatives are a hillbilly family who run a general store in Lone Mule, Tennessee. Their father's will directs that the girls are to spend their summers in Lone Mule or forfeit their share of the fortune. Being a bit spoiled and accustomed to luxuries, Cornelia in particular hates the arrangement. Dot, only 16, thinks it might be fun. Cyrus Goolus, their uncle, is a miser who sees a chance to make himself some money. He decides to try to chase the girls away and inherit all the fortune himself. The girls do not discourage easily, however. What follows is an avalanche of fun and laughter.

ASKING A CITY-BRED girl to a country hoe-down poses a problem for Slim Hawkenshaw (Gary Pettit).

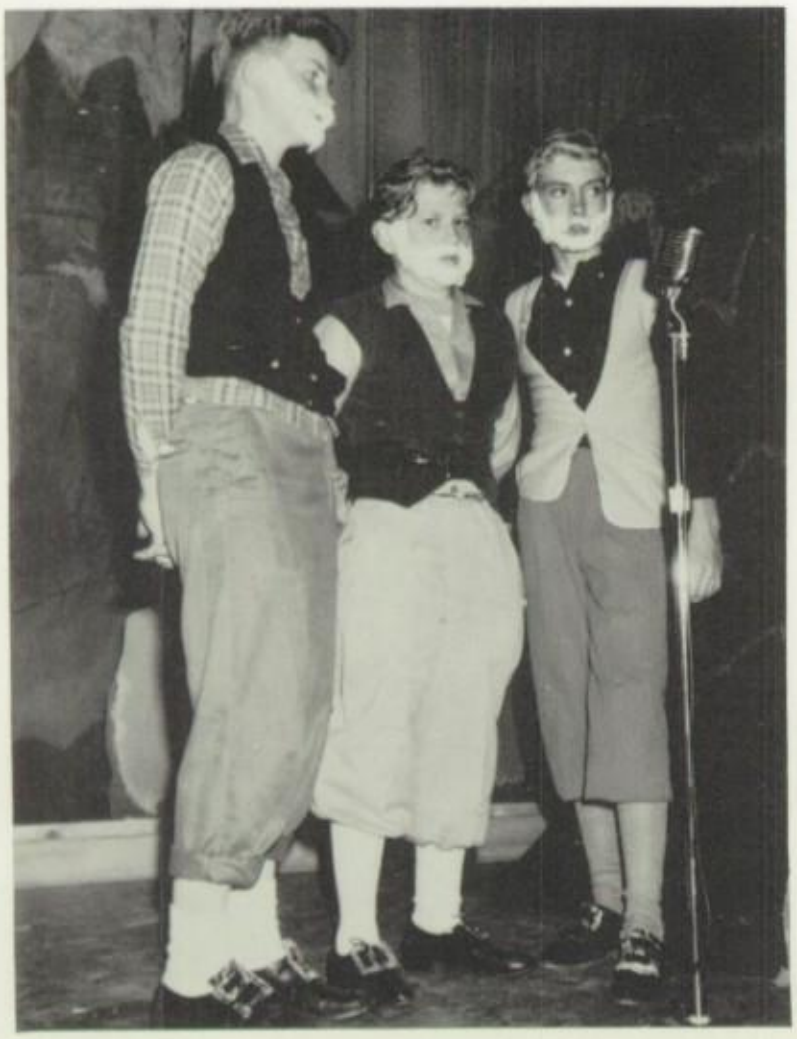
FOLLOWING THE TRADITION of winding the Maypole, these fifth graders carry it out with their colorful costumes and scenery. A lively folk tune furnishes the music for the group.

MAY DAY, MAY 1, 1964—RIP VAN WINKLE

HARMONIZING IN A SONG, these fine men relate Rip's adventure of twenty years' sleep.



Rip Van Winkle, beloved of his children, his dog and his neighbors, arouses the wrath of his wife because of his failure to mend the shutter of their home. She finally turns him and his dog out in a storm.

Rip and Wolf wander to the mountains where Hendrick Hudson and his followers, now vanished 150 years and turned into Gnomes, are waging the thunder and lightning of storms by rolling ninepins down the mountainsides. Rip quaffs a draught from Hudson's flagon and goes to sleep for twenty years, while the Gnomes and Indians dance around him.

Twenty years later Rip returns to his home and finds all forlorn and forsaken. No one recognizes him. The Revolutionary War has meanwhile brought a Yankee victory and when Rip cries "God Bless King George!" they take him for a declared enemy.

His daughter, Judith, grown now and married appears with her baby and recognizes him. Dame Van Winkle has died, so Judith offers Rip her comfortable home. He sits on the bench with his old crony, Nicholas Vedder, a happy and contented man in his old age, and the villagers rejoice in his return.

THE MAY QUEEN and her court regally watch the proceedings after the coronation. The queen for 1964 was Charlotte Lane. Her court was made up of seventh and eighth graders.

HENDRICK HUDSON (Gary Davolt) relates one of his tall tales to a group of interested onlookers. He would tell his story to anyone who was near.

SENIOR TRIP—MAY, 1964

The Senior Trip is always looked forward to by each senior class. They begin to prepare for it as soon as they enter high school. Money, which is hard to come by, is made slowly and painfully, dollar by dollar. The class works together as a unit to achieve a goal.

Choosing the place to go often brings dissention, but eventually everyone agrees on a place - New Orleans. Arrangements are made and lessons are completed for the end of the year - their last, and it is rapidly drawing to a close. Finally, the big day arrives. Everyone is packed with all the new clothes, cameras, rollers and bobby pins, and a wallet of money. They pack basic essentials only, of course.

The trip lasts one week and includes tours, shopping, visiting, and general loafing. Everyone is in a spirit of fun. Everything is so new and different. But all good things must end, so they return home with empty wallets and hearts full of precious golden memories.

A LIVELY GROUP OF SENIORS and sponsors gather at the poolside for a midnight gab session. Nobody seems sleepy!

"THIS IS FUN!" shouts Beverly Baugher as she and Frances Mendenhall enjoy a ride on the hotel swings.

"IS IT SUPPOSED TO BE THIS BIG?" seems to be Karen Hill's comment as she sees her cap and gown for the first time. Three other seniors reassure her that it will be alright once she gets it on.

MOMENTS TO REMEMBER–

THE DAYS BEFORE GRADUATION

For twelve long, hard years the graduates have been together. Somewhere, in-between the first and the twelfth grade, they grew up. In a few days they will be among the ranks of young America, seeking jobs, preparing for college, and taking part in their nation's activities.

The graduates seem to grow closer to each other. They view each passing day with a mixture of nostalgia, eagerness, and sadness. These are the days that will long be remembered, the days spent together, before Commencement.

OCTOBER 16, 1964

A variety show is held each year for the purpose of obtaining additional funds for the Reco, our school annual. This year's program was the eighth year for the Reco Frolics.

Pantomimes, skits, musical numbers, a twirling act, a one-act play entitled "A Date for Bobby Sox," and the ever-popular "Fashion Show" were a few of the highlights of the evening.

The Reco students put a lot of thought and effort in producing this program, and the results were rewarding.

PROBLEMS OF THE WORLD were discussed and resolutions were made by Mrs. Icewater and Mrs. Gentleman Bird in a very stimulating political debate.

"WHICH POLISH WOULD YOU PREFER?" questions Barbara Hunt, the manicurist in this skit.

A NEW SINGING SENSATION, "The Recoettes," performed at the Reco Frolics. They sang "Lolly-toodum," a hillbilly song.

HAVING A FLAT TIRE on a date causes complications for Bobby Sox (Rama Head) and her boy friend Harold (Terry Carter) in the one-act play.

RELAXING AND ENJOYING a snack of stolen party food are Harvey Smith (Greg Herriman) and Keith Garland (Charles Bennett).

"NO BOYS ALLOWED"

LETTING GO WITH A SIREN-LIKE SCREAM because Mr. Midnight has just given her a great big hug is Victrola (Rama Head), the housekeeper.

"GET OUT!" demands Belinda (Joan Liebhart) and Edwina (Betty Twitchel) to the reluctant boys who want to join the pajama party.

DISCUSSING THE PROBLEMS of a successful slumber party are the two Baxter sisters, Rita and Jane.

SYNOPSIS

The Baxter girls decide to have a really exciting pajama party while their parents are away. Excitement isn't the word for what they get.

There is a mysterious prowler slipping in and out of doors, windows, and closets, and a detective chasing him. There is an unusual disappearance of all the food. And a teen-age romance hampered by two jealous teen-agers. But the BIGGEST problem of all is with a housekeeper named Victrola, who is terrified of work and "Haints," both of which she believes prevail in the Baxter household.

"GIVE ME THAT TELEPHONE," demands Rita (Vicki Hill) to her sister Jane (Mary Ervie).

"I SHALL DEFEND AND PROTECT the food and the girls!" vows Keith (Charles Bennett).

WITH THE BEAUTIFULLY LIGHTED CHRISTMAS TREE as background many couples enjoy dancing to soft music.

THE CHRISTMAS

DANCE

DECEMBER 18, 1964

A beautifully decorated dancing area greeted the guests at the Christmas Party this year. The traditional Christmas colors of red and white were used throughout the room. The Student Council was responsible for the decorations.

Checkers, cards, ping-pong, and bingo games, as well as dancing, proved to contribute much to the successful party.

Refreshments of ham sandwiches, potato chips, ice cream, and cake were served in the cafeteria, buffet style. White tablecloths and lovely centerpieces adorned the tables.

At nine o'clock the Christmas packages were taken from under the Christmas tree, delivered, and opened.

The time passed all too swiftly and the students were reluctant to go home at the appointed hour.

WATCHING IS ALMOST AS IMPORTANT AS PLAYING to Ronnie Anderson and Bob Jobson. Gary Holmlund and Roger Davolt are playing.

A DIFFICULT TEAM TO BEAT at ping-pong is Jerry Fitzgerald and Roger Davolt.

WHILE ENJOYING THE REFRESHMENTS at the party, these seniors chat about the fact that this will be the last year to attend the school party.

"NOW WHERE COULD THAT MISTLETOE have gone?" wonders Billy Holmes and Karen Jackson.

SHARING ONE OF THE MANY DANCES of the evening are Sharon Davis and David Schillinger.

CARTOONIST BOB WOOD illustrated interesting and varied subjects in his performance.

ASSEMBLIES

The Bucklin R-2 School signs a contract with the Bureau of Lectures and Concert Artists of the University of Kansas to present three assemblies to the student body each year. These assemblies are designed to be of interest to young people. This year we enjoyed the programs of a glass blower, a cartoonist, and a magician.

In addition to the contracted assemblies, some other assemblies were held that were pertinent to our modern, youthful life. Robert Main presented a program on South Vietnam, the present trouble spot of the world. Sgt. Usher gave a timely talk and interesting pictures concerning traffic safety. A conservation agent made the students conscious of Missouri's resources and offered suggestions for the preservation and beautification of the state.

All in all, the assemblies proved educational and interesting.

THE ART OF HYPNOTIZING a rabbit was only one of the many talents of this magician.

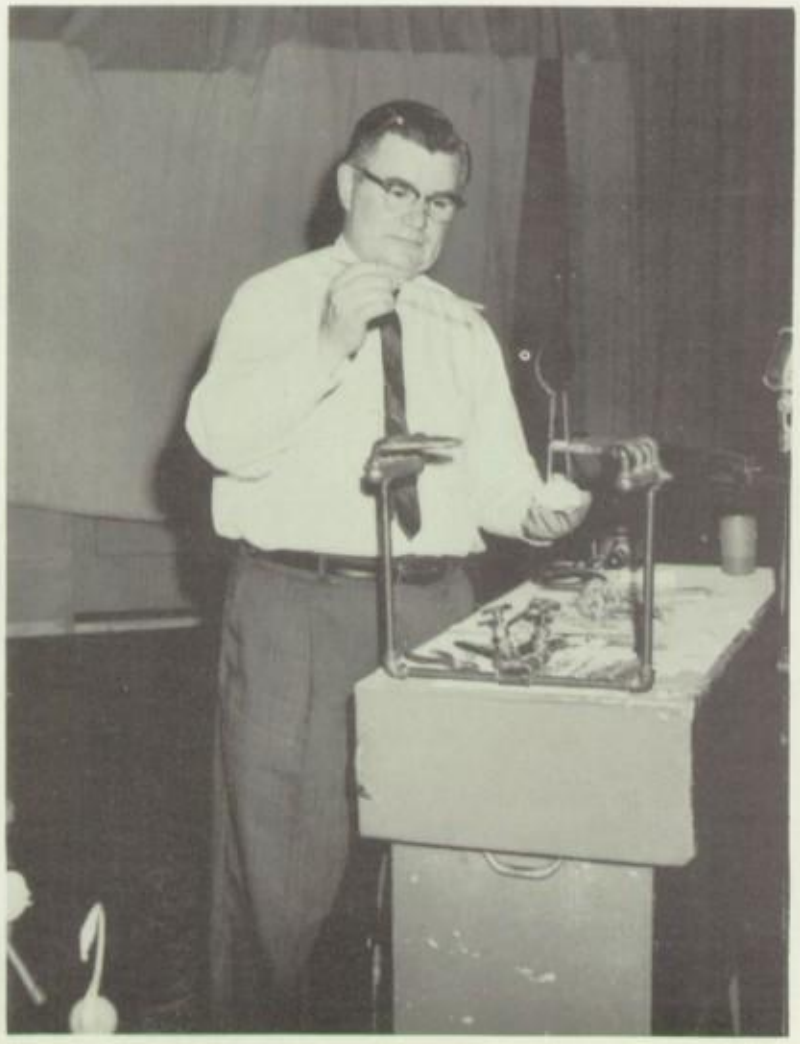
FINDING THAT WATER ON THE BRAIN can be very serious is assistant Vaden Morris.

"NOW TAKE A DEEP BREATH just in case something goes wrong!" instructed the magician.

SHOWING INTERESTING SNAPSHOTS of South Vietnam to Chuck Bennett is Robert Main, a visitor to our school.

IMPORTANT KEY TO WIDENING KNOWLEDGE

BOHEMIAN GLASS BLOWING proved to be a very different and unusual assembly.



DESCRIBING AND LOCATING POINTS of interest held the attention of the entire audience.

PROVIDING KNOWLEDGE THROUGH BOOKS

GREG HERRIMAN, TREASURER of the librarians, finds it his duty to collect fines on the books overdue. Rama Head seems to enjoy supporting the finances of this organization.

The librarians are very essential to the operation of the school. They perform many duties such as keeping the shelves and books clean, checking books in and out, collecting fines for overdue books, keeping the latest magazines and newspapers in circulation, and helping to advise other students on their reading needs and preferences.

College bound students find much helpful information in the college catalogs that are kept available on the shelves. Miss Cannon is the supervisor of the librarians.

KEEPING IN TOUCH WITH OUTER WORLD

COURTESY IS EXTENDED visitors to the office by the office assistants. Linda Finney greets a salesman as he calls to display his merchandise.

Our office attendants are hard to find! They're so busy that one hardly ever sees them. They are busy at the tasks of delivering the mail, answering the telephone, running errands, collecting absentee slips, and paging the recipients of messages.

Their efficiency is amazing as they go about their duties and helping Mr. Kelso and Mrs. Dean in the office.

TEL-IT-AL STAFF

BRING CURRENT NEWS TO MIND

The Tel-it-al is an appropriate name for Bucklin High's newspaper. The news staff really tells it all, and then some. "Kilroy" was a new feature added to the publication during 1964-65, and he was undoubtedly the snoopiest individual that ever roamed our halls and classrooms. His identity remained undisclosed, but each student soon became wary and suspicious of each person on the staff.

Other coverages of the paper included sports, news items, classroom news, class activities, a calendar, editorials, announcements, elementary activities, gossip, jokes, and news of a general interest to all subscribers. Subscription rates were fifty cents for the year.

The acquisition of new typewriters and a new mimeograph machine greatly enhanced the efficiency with which the newspaper could be published monthly. The staff and Mr. Fessler put out the paper during the regular secretarial practice class period.

TO RECALL HIGH SCHOOL MEMORIES

Yearbook work does not begin a few days or weeks before the deadline the middle of March. Advertisers are contacted early in the fall, snapshots are being taken constantly, and the planning phase of the book is always under consideration. When all of the materials are collected, the Reco staff members meet to assemble the data.

The co-editors and co-business managers are selected by other second and third year members of the staff. The other assignments are chosen by the sponsor. The editors and business managers earn "Star" pins and 1/2 unit of credit. The third year members receive "Journeyman" pins and 1/2 unit of credit. Second year students are given 1/4 unit of credit and "Staff" pins. First year members, who choose this extracurricular activity receive no credit, but they do earn a "Cub" pin.

Our 1964 Reco received recognition in the National Scholastic Press Association's critical survey. Our book attained a first-class honor rating.

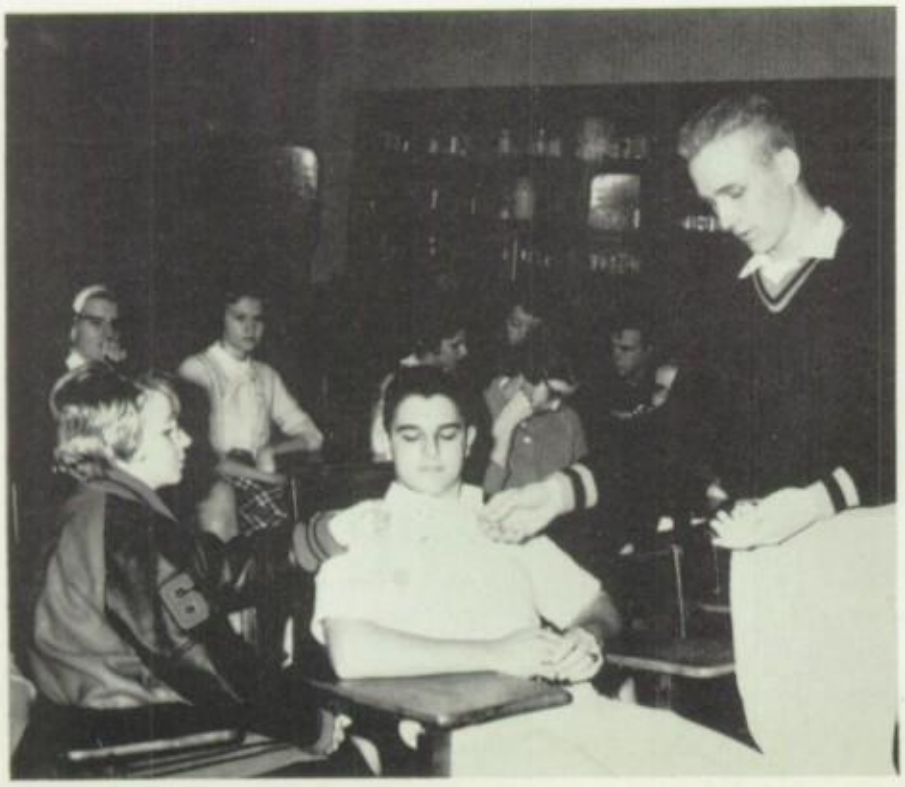
REPRESENTATIVES OF STUDENT BODY

GETTING OPINIONS from the student body on current events, Stanley Casady, Student Council member, collects votes from the junior class.



The Student Council is a representative body made up of two students (a girl and a boy) from each class, who are selected to represent that class. The students picked must have good qualities in leadership, character, and dependability, and must have at least an "M" average.

The Student Council helps with both the Homecoming and Sweetheart games, and other school-sponsored activities. This year it has given the student body an "all school" party and helped in choosing the cheerleaders as well as setting up standards for them.

Above all, the Student Council is organized to correct, support, and improve the student body.

P.T.A. OFFICERS — Mrs. Everett Lambert, Mrs. Edward Wolf, Mrs. Raymond Gall, and Mrs. Murriel Griffin.

Gateways was the important word and overall theme of the 1964-65 Parent-Teachers Association. This far-reaching topic served as a means of enlightenment in several different areas.

Some of the gateways opened were: to Education, to Mental Health, to Life, to Spiritual Guidance, to Emotional Stability, to Understanding, to Racial Equality, and to Achievements. These topics were prepared by noted speakers of our community, who presented their ideas by use of lectures and visual aids. Entertainment and refreshments were furnished by classes and organizations of the school.

Health and dental clinics for the elementary grades were under the auspices of the P.T.A. Managing the lunch room during the junior high tournament is always an enormous endeavor for this organization of willing workers.

LEADERS IN PARENT-STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

BAND BOOSTER OFFICERS — Mrs. Tom Twitchel, Mr. Ben Burnett, Mrs. Daniel Ervie, Mrs. Harry Heaton, and Mr. Bobby Rickman.

The Band Boosters organization is made up of the parents of students in the bands of Bucklin R-2. This group of parents assist the bands in many ways. They held a chili supper at the Bucklin Legion Hall, they served the annual Harvest Day Dinner for the Chamber of Commerce, and they sold birthday and activity calendars. These activities were carried out to raise the bands' financial status.

This organization works unerringly and willingly toward many goals throughout the school term. The Band Boosters is a suitable name for this organization for without a little "boost" the bands could not have high spirits and perform as well as they do.

SENIORS—NOT FINISHED JUST BEGUN

THE SENIORS had the concession stand at the many softball and baseball games played in the fall. These boys move the old stove out of the stand.

The years of hard work are finally coming to a climax as the seniors last year draws to a close. Although the seniors are filled with excitement, they feel saddened at the close of their school years. As the days come faster and faster, they begin to reminisce and experience mixed feelings of nostalgia and anticipation.

Preparations have been made all year to secure money for the trip. Team work and co-operation were needed for all the projects they attempted. The moneymaking projects were the concession stand at the ball games, magazine sales, bake sales, and work days. The two biggest moneymakers were the pie supper and the Senior Play. Class sponsors, Mr. Rickman and Mrs. Phillips, helped guide the class in all their projects.

The end is in sight as the year draws rapidly to an end for the Senior Class of 1965.

TERRY CARTER, MR. FIX-IT, tries to repair a fallen clothesline in this skit from the Reco Frolics. His efforts are not very successful.

SENIORS, BRENDA JOHNSON and LOU JEAN KITCHEN, sell chances for the silverware to be given away by the seniors to earn money for their trip.

JUNIORS ACHIEVE SUCCESS

The juniors were a busy group during the 1964-65 school term. By the time a student reaches his junior year, he finds that he has many added responsibilities. The highlights of the junior year were the Banquet and Prom, purchasing their class rings, and presenting the three-act play, "No Boys Allowed." Less outstanding activities were moneymaking projects such as candy sales, serving in the concession stands at ball games, a work day, and cake giveaways.

Individuals from the group participated in sports, music, Reco, and other extracurricular activities. Some attained academic honors and Betty Twitchel, Vicki Griffin, Dennis Burnett, and David Schillinger were chosen as Girls' and Boys' State representatives.

Sponsors for the juniors were Miss Cannon and Mr. Matlick. Mrs. Van Dyke offered her assistance during the production of the three-act play.

CASTING HIS VOTE for the Valentine Sweetheart is Greg Herriman. Rama Head keeps watch over the box.

SOPHOMORES FIND

NOTHING TRAINS LIKE EXPERIENCE

The students in the sophomore class have come to feel a part of high school activities. A year can make a great deal of difference in the feelings and personality of a sophomore. He is no longer "that green freshman," he is "in" high school at last! He can share in the work and play of everyday school life. The sophomore class sponsors, Mrs. Kelso and Mr. Fessler, guide the class in their many activities. The class took their turn in running the concession stand at the many basketball games. They also made money by selling candy.

The sophomores enjoyed a show party in which all participated. They also have had one work day in which they all took part.

DIANA BURNETT, a sophomore twirler, stands at attention as the band plays the school song.

FRESHMEN TREAD SOFTLY—

BUT QUICKLY ATTAIN CONFIDENCE

When an eighth grader becomes a freshman, he becomes aware that he is in an entirely different atmosphere. The lessons are different, usually much harder, the teaching methods of each teacher is different, and the activities are different. But, a freshman soon gets adjusted and life seems much brighter. A freshman's daily life is one big rush of activities. The tradition of initiation is gleefully carried out by the seniors, who subjugate the poor freshmen to a day of pranks and fun. The Freshman Luncheon is presented to the parents and teachers by the class.

Their sponsors, Mrs. Van Dyke and Mr. Meeks, helped the class to earn money by serving at the concession stand at the ball games several times during the year. The class enjoyed a show party at Macon.

FEBRUARY was the MONTH ASSIGNED to the sixth grade to present the P.T.A. program. The students decided to honor the Presidents whose birth dates occurred during the month. To suggest a humorous touch, it was discovered that Old Mr. Groundhog saw his shadow and we were doomed for bad weather.

DRAMATIZATION of a FAVORITE SCENE for a reading class project created much interest. Allen Molloy, as Prince Charming, awakens Karen Stanley, as Sleeping Beauty, in their clever skit from the ever-popular story, "Sleeping Beauty."

ANTICIPATION of VALENTINE'S DAY causes much excitement in the elementary grades. The students really enjoy the party and the exchange of colorful cards and candies. Floy Switzer and Jerry Gall were privileged to decorate the bulletin board.

LEARNING LIQUID MEASURE is one of the accomplishments of fourth graders. Mrs. Turner brought containers so that Tommy Main and Charlotte Carter could demonstrate the lesson to the class by use of actual gallons, quarts, pints, and cups.

LEARNING about the AGE of SPACE from an explanatory chart, Carol Ann Lozuaway, Martin Anders, Gregory Noah, and Dean Standley are absorbing information that will have a definite influence on their lives.

"THIS PLACE MARKS approximately the degree at which water freezes," explains John Earl Huff to Debbie Johnson, Mary Beth Harrington, and Eva Hill. It takes a lot of concentrated study to learn to read a thermometer.

OUR APPRECIATION

On the final page of our 1964-65 yearbook, we desire to give a vote of appreciation to all of the people who have helped us to publish this edition of The Reco. We have endeavored to produce a book of interest showing "What we do at Bucklin R-2."

For Mrs. Kelso's constant supervision and assistance we are truly grateful. Our parents and faculty members have helped in many insignificant ways. The photographers have all done marvelous jobs. Mr. Kelso and Mr. Fessler took countless snapshots; Mr. Alexander took many of the group pictures and made the senior portraits; and Mr. John Q. Adams painstakingly produced all of the individual pictures of both the elementary and the secondary students.

Our book would be inconceivable if it were not for the many fine merchants of the Bucklin trade area. Their generosity is paramount in the production of the annual. Our subscribers must be thanked, as we must have sales to augment the money received from the advertisers.

We feel that Mr. White, Mr. Powell, and Pischel's entire staff take a special interest in our book, so we have the satisfaction that the publishing company will do the best work possible.

Accept our thanks if you have helped us in any way, large or small.
